

Child Minding Update

January 23, 2012

In light of the member feedback and our evaluation of the present child minding services we have decided to maintain our all inclusive fee structure pending further review. We thank our members for their feedback; over the coming months we will examine the present model.

In order to improve the feasibility of delivering this service as it currently exists, parents will now be required to transport their children to any other program spaces outside of child minding in which they may be participating. In the event of space limitations parents may, on occasion, be asked to wait for space to become available. We thank you in advance for your patience should this be necessary.

As a charity committed to nurturing children, teens and young adults we are striving to increase our capacity. The Y is dedicated to helping as many people as possible live healthy active lives. We do hope to foster a sense of social responsibility to our community through our volunteer and philanthropy programs. We will also continue to work on our program alternatives for children.

We thank everyone for their patience, understanding, and valuable feedback.
